A Message from Kim Carmody
Senior Director of Parks & Recreation

As we stand on the threshold of a new year, it is a natural time for reflection, allowing us to both celebrate our achievements and identify areas for growth. At Mobile Parks and Recreation, we have wholeheartedly embraced this spirit of renewal, and we are excited to announce our theme for 2025: Continued Growth! This theme resonates through our strategic planning and programming as we seek to foster an even more vibrant and engaging community.

In 2025, the embodiment of our growth will be prominently showcased through the introduction of innovative programming. We are thrilled to unveil our revamped STEM initiative, which will evolve into STREAM. This new program will not only retain the core elements of Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics projects but will also weave in the enriching threads of Recreation and Art. By integrating these additional components, we aim to provide a more holistic approach to learning that caters to diverse interests and sparks creativity among participants.

Moreover, we are committed to enriching the experiences of our younger community members with an exciting lineup of themed and specialty camps designed specifically for MPRD Kids. These camps will be complemented by a comprehensive year-round offering of fitness programs and events suitable for individuals of all ages and skill levels, promoting health and wellness across the community. Our goal is to create inclusive spaces where everyone can thrive physically, mentally, and socially.

Lastly, we are enhancing community engagement in our beautiful City parks through initiatives such as the Adopt-A-Park & Leave-A-Mark project, which will provide residents with opportunities to actively contribute to maintaining and beautifying these cherished spaces. We are also thrilled to announce a series of clinics and events at our newly renovated pickleball courts, inviting players of all abilities to join in the fun, learn new skills, and foster connections.

With these exciting developments on the horizon, 2025 is poised to be a remarkable year of growth and opportunity for all involved with Mobile Parks and Recreation. We look forward to embarking on this journey together and creating lasting memories in our community!
